Here are the most popular dolls of this year!

Dolls have always been a little girl's best friend! Most girls love to play with dolls and usually have a special doll who they dub their "best friend"! Every year, new dolls are released, some good and some not so good. This year, let's take a look at the best and most popular dolls that are out in the market. Here's a look at the best dolls of 2007.

1. Karito Kids Dolls

The Karito Kids dolls are special in more ways than one. This beautifully diverse line of dolls includes dolls encompassing 5 nationalities, but with a common purpose - to help needy kids worldwide. Each time you buy a Karito Kids doll and activate your purchase online, a percentage gets donated to a project of your choice (you can choose from ongoing projects through PLAN, a charitable organization). The dolls itself are superb and they include Wan Ling, a panda lover from China, Lulu, a soccer star and co-host on a children's TV show in Kenya, Zoe, a bohemian songwriter from New York, Gia, a fashionista from Italy and Pita, a medal-winning equestrian from Mexico. Each doll also comes with a special storybook, and is available for $99.99.
