New Karito Kid on the Block

February 26, 2008

Posted by: Julie K.

We've loved Karito Kids since their introduction last year. Each of the dolls in the Karito clan helps kids learn about charitable giving through both a book and an online site where girls get a code to donate money to a good cause.

At Toy Fair, Karito Kids introduced their newest girl on the block—Piper. I'm actually a little jealous of this doll's life—she's an Aussie surf girl who discovers that marine life is starting to wash ashore in Sydney Harbor. Her story talks about her eco-mission to help save the ocean animals from pollution. She's the perfect doll for girls who love the ocean or marine animals. Check back at Gifts.com this June to find Piper, in the meantime check out the current Karito Kids.
