

Kids go shopping

©2008 Newsday

Karito Kid Doll

By Jarline Arciniega, Kidsday Reporter

I played with the Karito Kid doll named Pita (karitokids.com, $99). She's very pretty and about 20 inches tall. Pita is from Mexico. She comes with a book and her own passport. If you buy any Karito Kid doll, the company will donate 3 percent of the money to a charity that helps kids around the world. You have to go online and find out about the country your doll is from and what projects you want to donate the money to. It comes with a chapter book and scrapbook. For girls 6 and up.