KidsGive's Karito Line

KidsGive's Karito Kids line of international dolls includes Wan Ling from Shanghai, China; Gia Valentina Russo, from Florence, Italy; Lulu Rehema Kibwana, from Nairobi, Kenya; and Zoe Nicole Linden, from New York. Each of the 18-inch dolls is made of vinyl with a partially soft body and comes dressed in the fashion of their native country. They have their own passports and a chapter book that tells the story of each doll's personal life, her culture's customs, geography, lifestyle, and current issues challenging her country. Kids earn points by playing and completing games and quests on the website. These points, called World Change, are a unique form of currency that the children can use to make donations to certain countries or causes.
